1960 Manualite Dedication

She taught us Human Science
Sponsored our annual too
She helped us with our problems
And cheered us up when blue

She taught us health and manners
And helped at graduation
And we would like to honor her
With this book dedication

So here's to Mrs. Esther Price
Who was retired last year
May she enjoy this Manualite
Is the hope we accent here

Principal

One of the greatest parts of our American heritage is equality of opportunity. Nowhere is this shown more clearly than in our free public schools. Here everyone has the opportunity to prepare himself for the particular niche in life for which he may be suited.

We, here at Manual, are extremely fortunate. Training in more different fields is offered than in any other school in Kansas City. Our classes are small, making personal relationships more closely knit. We have a fine group of students and a splendid faculty.

We hope you are proud to attend Manual, and we want Manual to be proud of you.

C. B. Means

Vice Principal

The vice principal is indeed proud of the young people who make up the student body of our school. Throughout the year there have been improved attitudes toward self, toward neighbor, toward achievement, and toward the school. Each is vital to future successes. May we all continue our steps toward better citizenship, a better school, and a better community.

Edward C. Fields

Counseling Department

Miss Thomson, Counselor at Manual, the first semester is now doing research study for a project in Guidance and Counseling. Gary Olenhouse is receiving help from her.

Counselors are here at Manual to help pupils with educational, occupational, and personal problems.

Mrs. Holley, who came to us the second semester as counselor, is in conference with Mrs. Costigan, secretary to the counselors, who also came the second semester.

Mr. Wheeler, counselor, is conferring with Mrs. Reynolds, first semester secretary to the counseling department.

Vocational Office

A high level of skill, intelligence and education is demanded in today's blue-collar jobs. It is imperative that young people who plan to work with their hands be able first to work with their heads. They must be able to read and write with proficiency, know mathematics, and understand basic principles of science.

Manual High and Vocational School Program

This is Mr. Clarkson's algebra class. Some of the students shown are John Yates, Wallojean Tindall, Frances Bonner, Charles Harris, Willie Ferguson, Corrine Spears, Whilemina Roland, Floyce Hawkins, Joe Alexander, and Walter Akers.

Manual High and Vocational School is unique among the high schools in Kansas City. In addition to a very fine academic program, Manual, alone, offers a vocational program. Thus, in the course of four or five years, one might acquire two diplomas.

The academic program consists of certain subjects required of all high school students in the Kansas City, Missouri Public School System. These are subjects such as English, science, mathematics, social studies, history, and physical education. Certain elective subjects such as typing, art, shorthand, geometry, and foreign languages are also offered under this program.

The vocational program offers various trade subjects such as tailoring, printing, shoe repair, cosmetology, dressmaking, electricity, and auto mechanics.

We at Manual are very proud that our school makes every effort to meet the varied needs, interests, and abilities of the students.

The maze of blueprints is the world of drafting. To the average observer, the blueprint is a complicated jigsaw puzzle with every piece not fitting. But to the draftsman, every line tells a story. Some of the students shown are Glendye Reed, Bobby Harris, Willie Oates, Maceo Dixon, and Issac Price.

Common Learnings

The students in Miss Annie Franklin's Common Learnings classes are taught reading, writing, spelling, speech, language, and social studies. Working at the board are Bessie Bradley and Adolph McCullough.

SEATED: William Bruce Mickey, Doyle Torrence, Ronald De Graftenreed, David Warren, Benny Wrose, Monroe Pierson, James Smith, and Helen Wright.

World History

The students in Mrs. Betty Hill's World History class are enjoying a movie on Ancient Greece and Alexander the Great.

Human Relations

The students in Mr. W. D. Dunlap's Human Relations class are studying information on vital phases of human relations, such as family living, employee-employer relationships, intergroup relationships and scientific approaches to such intimate relations as sex, marriage, and divorce. Interest is always keen in this popular subject, and discipline is never a problem.

Biology Class

Mrs. Annie Mae Miller's class is in the process of taking notes on the amoeba. Others are in the middle of another important experiment.

Zoology Class

A scene from Mrs. Isabelle Hasty's zoology class. Each student had an individual research problem.

Geometry Class

Geometry classes (Periods 3 and 6), are working problems dealing with congruent triangles. Purpose: to give the student methods which will lead to clear, concise thinking. Mr. Arthur Johnson, instructs.

Chemistry Class

In Mr. Adell Thompson's chemistry class, Jesse Johnson and Manuel Lopez are performing experiments of the preparation of oxygen and hydrogen gases. Mr. Thompson, instructor, is assisting in the demonstration to see that all safety measures are carried out.

Commercial Department

Leeathel Allen, Doris Boydston, Gloria Mallory, Sandra Newland, Mr. Bowen.

Each person has a special job to do: Sandra writes checks, Gloria records the receipts and expenditures in the ledger, Leeathel records the receipts according to teachers.

Each girl assumes the responsibility of checking the day's receipts before closing time and helping each other when necessary.

Mr. Bowen tries to see that everything is organized and taken care of correctly.

"See, we told you they would catch up with you eventually, Mr. Bowen."

Office Practice

FIRST ROW: Joyce Cunningham, Mary Pearson, Margaret Brown, Mr. Lezell Smith, standing. SECOND ROW: Everett White, Mary Kay Jennings, Willadine Terry, Elsiour Smith.

Students are using the various types of machines used for teaching purposes in Office Practice. A working knowledge of many different office machines is gained by learning to efficiently operate the machines shown.

Spanish Class

The Spanish class, taught by Senora Mary Kelso, is always "muy interesante." Today they are working on the use of the adjectives you see on the "pizarra" behind them. Among the students pictured are "Juana, Pablo, Sandra, Dolores, Josefina, Leon, Mariano, Carlina, Lina, Flora, Zeria, Selma, Forestina, Donato, y otros."

Drama Class

English Literature

Oona Baynham, Larry McCue, Lena Austin, Willadine Terry, Beverly Berry, Geraldine Gosa, Janice Carter, Michael Richardson, Zelma Terry, Henrietta Bausby, William Hunter, James Hughes, Carrie Fortune, Margaret Brown, Mable Williams, Harry Williams.

Woodwork Shop

Homemaking

Mrs. Katie Daniels, instructor of Home Economics, is shown assisting these students in sewing.

Other projects undertaken to master are cooking, good grooming, and many others. Dianna Sapp, Annetta Bausby, Shirley Bausby, Ruth Harris, Shirley Perry, Sherdean Hill, Shirley Austin.

Faculty Honored at Sweetheart Tea

The members of the Manualite Staff, headed by Mrs. Isabelle Hasty and Mrs. Barbara Ponder, honored the teachers of Manual High by giving them a tea which was held February 2. The Manualite staff members served as hostesses and hosts.

Manual Rated High by Counselors, Principals

Mainly because of our vocational department, Manual is ranking high among high schools in the Greater Kansas City area.

Many students realize this fact, but they feel they won't receive the necessary academic requirements. For this reason, they go to other schools.

Since Manual is the only vocational school in Kansas City, those students who don't have the money or the ability to succeed in college, without knowing any type of trade.

In response to this, P. Martinez, coordinator, on January 17, invited counselors of senior high schools of the district to visit Manual.

different types of shop and different machines and equipment. The tour began at 10 a.m.

Driver Education

In Driver Education, students study all of the laws they need to know to get their drivers' licenses. They also study many other safe and unsafe acts. In the picture, they are looking at some of the parts of the engine. The students learn the proper care of cars.

Exercise is fun. Also helps the figure. The girls reported sore muscles according to Mrs. Ruehle.
This particular exercise is known as the spread-eagle.

THREE-MAN SIDEWARD ROLL

ABOVE: Felix Valdivia, Norman Walker, and Gerald Blount, under the instruction of Mr. White, are attempting to execute a three-man sideward roll. Such tumbling students add to the flexibility and coordination of the individual.

Manual's Social Code

Dating

I will tell my parents where I am going, when I'll return, and the type of transportation involved.

Boys

I will enter the house when calling for a date.

I will inform the girl of the expected time of return and keep to this time.

Girls

I will inform my parents of any changes made in the date.

I will respect my parents' request not to date a person to whom they object.

I will accept no blind dates.

I will honor my parents' request to return home at the time asked.

Place for Dating

I will not attend night clubs and parties where alcoholic beverages are sold or served.

I will not visit the home of the opposite sex when the parents are not home.

Time for Dating

I will accept dates once during the week and on week ends.

I will attend a party only by invitation and leave when it is over.

I will attend no house parties unless there is an adult present.

Drinking

I will not ride in a car with a driver who has been drinking.

I will request that my parents not drink in my presence.

I will not ask adults to purchase alcoholic beverages for me.

Dress

I will dress to fit the occasion at all times.

I will be neat and clean at all times.

Curfew

I will observe the following time schedule:

Thanks A Lot!

We the Manualite Staff wish to express our deep appreciation and thanks to: Miss Leedy and her art classes for the art work in the yearbook.

Mr. Brice's woodwork shop for wood cardinals, background stage setting for assembly and pass paddles.

Mr. Dunlap for pictures taken at all hours of the day.

Mr. Johbson for his assistance with the coronation of the Manualite Queen and King.

Mrs. Kelso for her assistance with Camera, pictures and copy.

Custodians for assistance in supplying equipment and help in many ways.

Mrs. Daniels for use of homemaking facilities.

Mr. Lowe and printing shop for tickets for social.

Mr. Bowen's office staff for financial assistance.

Mr. Swingle's music department for musical numbers at the Coronation.

Rolland's studio especially, Mr. Lyle Dulac, and Mr. Mehner, Walsworth Publishing Co. and Mr. Penniston for their assistance and allowance for our "greenness."

We especially want to thank all the faculty for their cooperation in allowing the Manualite staff members to be out of their classes when necessary.

The student body for their interest in purchasing 365 yearbooks!

The Cardinal costume was designed and made by Shirley Merriwether in Mrs. Tobin's Vocational Dressmaking Class. This costume represents our school mascot and it helped to promote our yearbook sale. It was worn by Brenda Clark, Patricia Howell or Helen Hughes.

Manualite Coronation

KING JAMES HUGHES

QUEEN VICTORIA MARTIN

The coronation of the Manualite King and Queen was a gala affair. This picture shows King James and Queen Victoria, who are being crowned by the principal, Mr. C. B. Means. They are surrounded by their Royal Court of princesses and princes. The coronation was followed by a social.
